Jim Slack, Jr. Appointed to Leadership Positions in AGC and HCA

Houston, TX—Jim Slack, Jr., president of Slack & Co. Contracting, Inc. was recently selected as chairman of the Association of General Contractors of America (AGC) Specialty Contractor Council. As a result of his selection, Mr. Slack also has a seat on the AGC-America Executive Board. He is one of twenty representatives across the nation who serve the AGC on a national level.

“It is a great honor to be appointed to this council,” says Slack. “Gaining exposure to national issues will provide insight we can apply at the local level. Sharing these insights with fellow specialty contractors in Houston will benefit our local construction industry.”

In December 2008, Jim Slack was also sworn in as vice president of the Houston Contractors Association (HCA). He will sit as president of the HCA beginning in 2010. With over 400 members that perform more than $2 billion worth of work and services annually, the HCA supports civil construction companies in the Greater Houston.

In 2009, Jim Slack and others from Slack & Co. will represent the company on a leadership level in industry organizations including: the Houston Contractors Association (HCA), American Subcontractors Association (ASA) Houston Chapter, and the Association of General Contractors (AGC) both nationally and the Houston chapter.
