

Annual Slack & Co. Vendor Appreciation Event is a Success

Houston, TX— On June 25, 2009, Slack & Co. Contracting, Inc. held its annual vendor appreciation event at the Cadillac Bar. With more than 100 in attendance, vendors enjoyed food and drinks with Slack & Co.'s employees.

"Hosting an event like this gives us a way of acknowledging the vendors and suppliers who have contributed to our success over the past year," says Slack & Co. President Jim Slack, Jr. "Without the support of the great companies we work with, we would not be able to provide the caliber of service that our reputation is built on."

During the event, Jim gave a brief speech expressing his appreciation to those in attendance, giving an update on current company news including Slack & Co.'s move to a new office building later in the year. He also introduced the Slack & Co. staff in attendance and reiterated the open-door policy the company has in place.
